The Rev. Sam P. Jones is supporting Hon. Dupont Guerry for Governor of Georgia, who is to make the race as a prohibitionist. Mr. Jones is thinking of paign next summer, and if he does Georgia is likely to have a political upwill do good.

A wave of indignation has spread over the whole country on account of President Roosevelt having Booker Washington, the negro educator, to dine with him at the white house. We must say we are surprised, for we gave both men credit for more sense. However, we are glad it occurred for one reason. Washington has been made a sort of hero by Southern white people; he has addressed white audiences even in South Carolina, has been a prominent figure in connection with the Charleston Exposition, and other favors likely to turn his head have been shown him by Southern white people. The incident will show these people what their recognition of Washington will lead to, and now we trust they will change their treatment of him. For this reason we are glad the unpleasant affair has occurred.

INTERESTING CASE.

The Kitchen Cabinet Case Reversed by the Supreme Court. We publish below the decision of the Supreme Court in the case of Henry J. Hickson vs. J. H. Early. This case was the reason that it is about the same case that is to be tried at the December term of court here. Several years ago S. W. Tate, in Darlington, sold several county rights for what he then called the Kitchen Cabinet. He took notes from the purchasers of these rights and discounted them to other parties before they fell due. The makers of the notes refused to pay them at maturity, alleging that there had been fraud and misrepresentation on the part of Tate. The case was tried in the holders of the notes. An appeal was taken to the Supreme court, and now that court reverses the decision of the trial, which is a victory for the defend-
